

Ken Huth
Managing Consultant
ken.huth@liw3.com

Ken has a diverse range of experience. As a practicing psychologist he worked in a number of roles in the health and community sector as well as maintaining a private practice. He moved into the organisational field and since then has brought his psychological insight and his developed business skills into a number of Australia's largest corporate clients in several industries.

He has thousands of hours of coaching in all levels of organisations. He has a talent for taking the theoretical into experiences from which participants take lasting change.

Ken's depth and range of experience, practical insights and down to earth facilitation style enable him to bring real results with the groups he works with.

He has led engagements that have included:

- Executive Sales Leadership Programs
- Strategy facilitation;
- Values deployment
- Presentation skills
- Assessment centre evaluation; and
- Leadership coaching.

His work has been completed in a diverse range of industries including professional services, financial services, consumer products and telecommunications.

He is accredited in a number of assessment tools including HBDI, LSI MBTI, 16PF and has thousands of hours of coaching in all levels of organizations. He has a talent for taking the theoretical into experiences from which participants take lasting change.

Ken's depth and range of experience, practical insights and down to earth facilitation style enable him to bring real results with the groups he works with.

Ken's clients include long term relationships with Westpac, St George, Commbank, Clayton Utz, Vodafone, Telstra, NSW Police, Orica and Unilever.

Mini bio

- Ken specialises in creating lasting change in teams and individuals through experiential learning. A practicing psychologist, Ken's career includes roles in the private and public sector including coaching at all levels of organisations.

Qualifications

- B Psych (UQ)
- Accredited in a number of assessment tools including HBDI, LSI MBTI, 16PF