Kerrie is an experienced Executive Coach and Leadership Consultant with over 20 years experience in executive leadership roles in large, global and multinational organisations.

Prior to establishing her own business and joining the LIW team, Kerrie had an extensive career in the Organisational Development and HR fields within blue chip organisations including Oracle and Westpac.

Her most recent role was Global Head of Talent and Organisational Development for Oracle where she was responsible for leading and establishing Oracle's global approach to talent and leadership development, and for facilitating change across complex, diverse, global organisations.

Prior to operating at a global level, Kerrie spent many years in the Asia Pacific region of Oracle creating and implementing best practice leadership development and talent management initiatives, and managing organisational change in the fast growing economies of India and China.

Additional background experience includes a range of senior leadership roles Line HR and Strategic HR Management.

Kerrie's focus is on building organisational capability through personal change and leadership. She works with senior leaders and individuals to bring about change and growth, and to develop their leadership, interpersonal and communication skills. As a coach Kerrie is leveraging her extensive organisational knowledge & experience, and her well developed skills in leadership, facilitation, relationship building and communication.

She is passionate about enabling individuals to maximise their potential and to bring the best of themselves to their work, their organisation and their life.

Kerrie holds a range of coaching qualifications including a Diploma of Transformational Life Coaching; Institute of Executive Coaching Level 1 Certificate; Certificate of Holistic Counselling and is a member of the International Coaching Federation (ICF).

Kerrie's interests include ongoing personal development, travel, bush walking, physical culture and enjoying great food & wine with family and friends.
