

Dan Meek
Director
dan.meek@liw3.com

Dan Meek is a Director of LIW and leads the client development and account management activity for the business globally. In this role he has spent many hours, weeks and months listening to what our clients need to achieve, in order to bring leadership solutions that will create business and behavioural impact in the LIW way.

Dan joined LIW in 2009 having spent three years partnering with LIW to integrate technology and blended learning modalities into their leadership solutions.

Dan works with the LIW team to continuously review and challenge the ways in which we deliver and embed lasting value in our relationships. He works alongside clients and consultants to look for opportunities to maximise leadership and business impact. He is also an accredited LSI performance coach and has a successful history in leading high performance sales teams.

Prior to taking this role, Dan's career has included various sales and client consulting leadership roles in the field of Learning and Development, including Sales Director at Talent2, The Learning Group and Skillsoft. In these roles, he successfully led each team in developing innovative solutions to help clients achieve their goals through people and technology.

Prior to working in sales leadership, Dan was a Learning Consultant with Applied Learning Australia – and spent his time designing and delivering innovative learning programmes for large Australian organisations. Dan's personal time is spent with his young family, surfing, golfing, or dabbling in photography.
